"I've been involved with teams in the past that have been so preoccupied with fixing software or organising processes to be able to do their job, and the project or product suffers or is not theexpected quality.

I believe Data Modellers, Engineers or Scientists should spend all their time focusing on the tasks they are good at, and WhereScape's Data Automation Software will enhance any team's output.

Spending a small amount of time upfront, you can avoid problems like these and set yourself and your team up for success."

- Simon Meacher, Managing Director, Engaging Data
